

Seth Botts Marries Winchester Girl

Seth Botts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Botts, of this city, was united in marriage in Louisville yesterday to Miss Sarah Margaret Bean, of Winchester. Mr. Botts came to this city with his parents from Bath county when a young boy and made his home here up until the World War, when he enlisted and saw much service upon foreign soil. Upon receiving his discharge he went to Winchester, where he has since been employed at Wheeler & Renaker's. He is one of the most popular young men that ever resided in Mt. Sterling and has many friends here who will be interested to learn of his marriage. His bride is one of Winchester's most popular and charming young society girls and is well known in this city. They were accompanied to Louisville by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Greene, brother-in-law and sister of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a short honeymoon and upon their return will be at home to their friends in Winchester. The marriage, although unannounced, was not a surprise to relatives and close friends, who have anticipated the event for some time.

REMOVED AND ENLARGED

Messrs. Ayres & Co., have removed their wholesale and retail fruit store from East Main to the corner of West Main and Bank Sts. They are in receipt of the fourth car of apples and are offering them at a bargain in order to close quickly. In addition to apples they have Florida oranges, fine bananas, Irish and sweet seed potatoes and onion sets. Their supply will not last long and Mr. Ayres urges those in need to come early and buy.

SHERMAN CRAYCRAFT SALE

The public sale of Sherman Craycraft on the premises on last Saturday was a good one. Milk cows brought from $50 to $80. Hogs sold on an average of about 10c. One 7-year-old mule brought $150. Chickens sold at 26c per pound. Farming implements and household and kitchen furniture, including cooking utensils, sold high. Bidding was spirited, showing the good old days that are coming soon.

We will have no opening this year, but our hats are ready for your inspection. Call and see them. Mrs. K. O. CLARKE. (40-4t)

Tobacco Market

The Robertson Warehouse, at their Thursday's sale, disposed of 64,000 pounds of tobacco at an average of $9.54. Their next sale will be tomorrow. The Farmers' Warehouse sold yesterday 168,970 pounds at an average of $8.42. This sale was adjourned until tomorrow morning out of respect to the memory of W. Reynolds, vice president of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, whose death occurred last night. The Whitehall sold today, but figures on this sale were unavailable at time of going to press. At their last sale on Thursday, 116,460 pounds were sold for $10,263.95.

Tobacco has been coming in slowly for the past week, but quite a good deal is coming in today to the different houses. The season is now drawing to a close, but the date for the closing sale has not yet been set.

Cut-Out Plan is Abandoned by Growers

The Barley Tobacco Growers' Association, at its annual directors' meeting at Lexington yesterday decided to abandon the proposed 50 per cent cut-out, which has not been successful and to release all growers from pledges signed. The membership fee was reduced from $5 to $1 and a membership campaign will be put on for the purpose of increasing the membership of the association and strengthening its organization for eventualities next year.

The following officers were then chosen to serve for the ensuing year: President, John W. Newman, Versailles, re-elected; C. M. Dean, Carrollton, first vice president; A. F. Shouse, Lexington, second vice president; E. M. Mansfield, Carrollton, secretary, and Q. T. Gatewood, Frankfort, treasurer.

The old board of directors was re-elected with the exception of John E. Brown, of Shelbyville, who is succeeded by B. A. Thomas, of the same place, and A. L. Murray, of Walton, who is succeeded by H. T. Ashbury.

The association officials will confer later with Judge Robert Bingham and Bernard Baruch relative to their plans for handling the cheaper grades of tobacco.

New Wholesale Grocery to Open

The Kennedy-Jones Co., a new wholesale grocery, notion and sundries house will make its how to the public in about 10 days. The new firm is composed of E. E. Jones, Thomas Kennedy and W. E. Jones and the William building on Bank street will be the location. The firm is composed of three very prominent business men, Mr. E. E. Jones having for a long number of years been one of the most successful salesmen that ever "hit the road"; Mr. Kennedy formerly operated a successful drug business in this city, and for several years after disposing of his drug store was owner of the Mt. Sterling Laundry Co.; Mr. W. E. Jones up until his removal to this city a few months ago was one of the county's most successful young farmers and at present holds the position of Deputy Sheriff and Master Commissioner of the Montgomery Circuit Court.

All three of these gentlemen have been a success in their individual lines of endeavor and they open their doors to the public with the promise that they will sell as good merchandise at as low or lower a price as the same articles can be bought anywhere.

They promise to operate a strictly modern and up-to-date establishment in every particular and intend to make a strong bid for a goodly portion of the business in this section.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we welcome this new firm among our varied business interests, and hope and predict for them a long career of prosperity.

The World's Most Beautiful Eyes!

The eyes of Clara Kimball Young, loved by hosts of film devotees the world over, have been the unconscious recipients of more genuine individual admiration than has ever fallen to the lot of one individual.

Perfect in shape and form, exquisitely beautiful in their rich, midnight coloring, bewitching, mysterious and compelling under all circumstances and in every expression, they constitute, in plain words, one of Miss Young's greatest assets.

Just as beautiful on the screen as off are these glorious orbs which have so many times been likened unto "twin stars," "lakes of tender sympathy,"—in very truth "the eyes of all the saints and the Madonnas."

And so it is that the eyes of Miss Young is one subject upon which there seems to be no argument, the undivided and unanimous decision that the world's most beautiful eyes are those of Clara Kimball Young, who may be seen in her latest picture, "For the Soul of Rafael" at the Tab Theatre Thursday.

Former Citizen Dies

Thomas Carmody, for many years a resident of this city, died Sunday night at Massie Memorial Hospital, Paris, of gangrene as a result of an injury to his foot several months ago. Mr. Carmody was 72 years old and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nellie Carmody, three daughters, Miss Margaret Carmody, of Oklahoma City; Mrs. A. L. Estelle, San Francisco, and Miss Elizabeth Carmody, of Chicago, and one son, John Carmody, Bhadrupuri, India.

The funeral service will take place from St. Patrick's church, this city, Friday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. E. B. Rhorer, of Mayslick, officiating. Burial will be in St. Thomas' Cemetery.

Father Kolb Passes at Lexington Hospital

The Rev. Father Benedict James Kolb, 76 years old, one of the most widely known priests of Central Kentucky, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, early Sunday morning. He was taken there and underwent an operation Tuesday morning. His death had been feared for several days. The body was removed to St. Paul's church Sunday afternoon and lay in state until shipped to Covington for burial this morning. Funeral services were conducted on Monday morning and night, and the latter services the Knights of Columbus attended in a body.

Father Kolb is survived by two sisters, Eva and Sister Bonaventure; a brother, Frank Kolb, and one niece, Miss Coleman. The former three all reside in New York and the latter in Lexington.

The following notice was issued on Sunday by R. J. Hillemeier, G. K., of Blue Grass Council:

"All members of the Knights of Columbus are requested to assemble at St. Paul's church for services in honor of the Rev. Father Kolb, at 7:30 P. M., Monday evening. His remains will lie in state until Tuesday morning when they will be removed to Covington for burial there."

For years Father Kolb was an intense sufferer, but endured it all without a murmur of complaint. Just a week prior to his passing, referring to the death of one of his co-workers, Father Kehoe, he reminded his people of the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death, "that you or I may be taken before the coming of another Sunday, for we know not the hour." And so it was, the great king of day was climbing to the Eastern horizon on Sunday morning when the summons came and the life once joyous and hopeful passed. Father Kolb was installed as priest of St. Patrick's church here in October, 1919, and from his initiatory a revival of work was entered into. Individual interests were so intensified that members of his congregation were moved to putting in memorial art windows and later the congregation pledged an amount sufficient to make the auditorium of their church one of the handsomest in the city, and the church once dormant, under his labors had taken on new life. When the message that he was dying was conveyed to him, unmindful of self he said, "carry these words to my people: 'I am praying for them and a like message you will please convey to my Protestant friends.' A magnanimous spirit.

Father Kolb came from Newport to this place, having served in Newport more than twenty-five years.

When advised of the needs of a public playground at the high school he became enthusiastic and pledged the amount asked from his church, and did it gladly.

Another message to his people was "Carry out the work begun." The death of this grand old man induces a pall of gloom to brood heavily over the lives and hearts of those following him in his labors of service and while ere long another will be appointed to succeed him, his place in the hearts of his own people, as well as in the hearts of his numerous friends, independent of church affiliations, will be hard to fill, and in his passing the entire people will feel the grievous loss caused by his absence. Peace to him who sleeps.

SELLS FARM

F. D. Richardson, as agent for Mrs. S. E. Spratt and Mrs. James Robb, has sold their farm of 105 acres, located near Canargo, to Mike Wilson, Taulby and Bay Gibson, for $8,500. Possession at once.

City High School Notes

The Senior Class is working on an annual this year which promises to be one of the best ever put out by this school. Any applications for an annual should be made to Mary Ann Young, business manager. Business firms can secure advertising spaces at reasonable rates.

The preliminary of the Declamation Contest will be held March 21, at which date three speakers will be selected from each society. The regular contest will be on March 25th.

Now that the basket ball season is over the boys are beginning to practice base ball this week. It is hoped by next week a list of players and the schedule of games may be published.

The Senior Class is planning to give a play this spring, which will excel previous attempts. The coach of the University of Kentucky Strollers will probably coach the players.

SPECIALIST FROM N. Y.

A representative of H. M. Birge, New York, the largest and most complete wall paper house in the U. S., will be at M. R. Hainline's during the week and all persons contemplating beautifying their homes should see Mr. Hainline at once and make a date, so that they can make a choice from the beautiful lines this firm handles. The prices range from the cheapest to the highest and most decorative modern styles known to the artists.

FARMS RENTED

Howell & Crouch, real estate agents, have rented the farms of Mrs. Sarah B. Drake, containing 216 acres, and the farm of Mrs. George F. Doyle, containing 121 acres, to Sanderson & Crouch, for the sum of $2,120.

Before buying your spring hat, be sure to inspect our line. All styles, plain hats for street wear, and the fancy models for dress occasions, all reasonably priced. Mrs. K. O. CLARKE. (40-4t)

A HIGH CLASS AUCTIONEER

It is always pleasing to have good words for worthy professionals. We knew that Col. Clayton Howell had taken a special course in the auctioneering school at Chicago, that he was a graduate and we were therefore anxious to hear him cry a sale. We heard him Saturday and it is our pleasure to say he is a high class auctioneer and that sales entrusted to him will receive the very best results.

Montgomery Post

Fills Vacancies

The Montgomery Post, in response to the call of the Commander Clarence A. Hainline, the Legion club rooms Sunday afternoon for the purpose of transacting regular business and filling vacancies that lately have occurred in the official family.

The Legion National Constitution provides that: "No candidate for or incumbent of a salaried elective public office shall hold any office in The American Legion or in any Department or Post thereof." Honoring this provision Messrs. Stanley Brown and Sidney J. Calk, both of whom are local political candidates, resigned as Commander and Master-at-Arms, respectively. In the balloting that took place Sunday afternoon Lewis H. Kilpatrick was chosen as the new Commander and Philip Hollearn as Master-at-Arms.

At a late meeting of the executive committee, by-laws were adopted for the Montgomery Post, one article of which declares that the first Sunday of each month, 2:30 P. M., shall be the date and hour for regular Post meetings. Commander Kilpatrick insists that every Legionnaire keep this date in mind, attend all meetings and lend him their active co-operation in making the Montgomery Post equal to any of its fellow organizations in the Kentucky Department.

Industrial and commercial systems at home, no staggering war debts, no swollen fortunes to flout the sacrifices of our soldiers, no excuse for sedition, no pitiable slackness, no outrages of treason. Envy and jealousy would have no soil for this mounting development and revolution would be without the passion which engenders it.

"A regret for the mistakes of yesterday must not, however, blind us to the tasks of today. War never left such an aftermath. There has been staggering loss of life, and measureless wastage of materials. Nations are still groping for return to stable ways. Discouraging indebtedness confronts us like all the war-torn nations, and these obligations must be provided for. No civilization can survive repudiation.

"We can reduce the abnormal expenditures and we will. We can strike at war taxation and we must. We must face the grim necessity, with full knowledge that the task is to be solved, and we must proceed with a full realization that no statute enacted by man can repeal the inexorable laws of nature. Our most dangerous tendency is to expect too much of government and at the same time do for it too little.

"We contemplate the immediate task of putting our public household in order. We need a rigid and yet sane economy, combined with fiscal justice, and it must be attended by individual prudence and thrift which are so essential to this trying hour and reassuring of the future.

Reflection of War's Reaction

"The business world reflects the disturbances of war's reaction. Herein flows the life blood of material existence. The economic mechanism is intricate and its parts interdependent and has suffered the shocks and jars incident to abnormal demands, credit inflations and price upheavals. The normal balances have been impaired, the channels of distribution have been clogged, the relations of labor and management have been strained. We must seek the readjustment with care and courage. Our people must give and take. Prices must reflect the receding fever of war activities. Perhaps we never shall know the old levels of wage again, because war invariably readjusts compensations and the necessities of life will show their inseparable relationship, but we must strive for normalcy to reach stability. All the penalties will not be light nor evenly distributed.

"There is no way of making them so. There is no instant step from disorder to order. We must face a condition of grim reality, charge off our losses and start afresh. It is the oldest lesson of civilization. I would like government to do all it can to mitigate them. In understanding, in mutuality of interest, in concern for the common good our tasks will be solved.

Do you know why it's toasted

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

"No altered system will work a miracle. Any wild experiment will only add to the confusion. Our best assurance lies in efficient administration of our proven system.

From Destruction to Production

"The forward course of the business cycle is unmistakable. Peoples are turning from destruction to production. Industry has seceded the changed order and our own people are turning to resume their normal onward way. The call is for productive America to go on. I know that Congress and the administration will favor every wise government policy to aid the resumption and encourage continued progress.

"I speak for administrative efficiency, for lightened tax burdens, for sound commercial practices, for adequate credit facilities, for sympathetic concern for all agricultural problems, for the omission of unnecessary interference of government with business, for an end to government's experiment in business and for more efficient business in government administration. With all of this must attend a mindfulness of the human side of all activities, so that social, industrial and economic justice will be squared with the purposes of a righteous people.

"With the nationwide induction of womanhood into our political life, we may count upon her intuitions, her refinement, her intelligence and her influence to exalt the social order. We count upon her exercise of the full privileges and the performance of the duties of citizenship to speed the attainment of the highest state.

Prayer for Industrial Peace

"I wish for an America no less alert in guarding against dangers from within than it is watchful against enemies from without. Our fundamental law recognizes no class, no group, no section. There must be none in legislation or administration. The supreme inspiration is the common weal. Humanity hungers for international peace and we crave it with all mankind. My most reverent prayer for America is for industrial peace, with its rewards, widely and generally distributed among the inspirations of equal opportunity.

"No one justly may deny the equality of opportunity which made up what we are. We have mistaken unpreparedness to embrace it, to be a challenge of the reality; and due concern for making all citizens fit for participation will give added strength of citizenship and magnify our achievement.

"If revolution insists upon overturning established order, let other peoples make the tragic experiment. There is no place for it in America. When world war threatened civilization we pledged our resources and our lives to its preservation, and when revolution threatens we unfurl the flag of law and order and renew our consecration. Ours is a constitutional freedom, where the popular will is the law supreme and minorities are sacredly protected. Our revisions, reformations and evolutions reflect a deliberate judgment and an orderly progress, and we mean to cure our ills, but never destroy or permit destruction by force.

"I had rather submit our industrial controversies to the conference table in advance than to a settlement table after conflict and suffering. The earth is thirsting for the cup of good will. Understanding is its fountain source. I would like to acclaim an era of good feeling and dependable prosperity and all its blessings which attend.

Protection of Industries

"It has been proved again and again that we cannot, while throwing our markets open to the world, maintain American standards of living and opportunity and hold our industrial eminence in such unequal competition. There is a luring fallacy in the theory of banished barriers of trade, but preserved American standards require our higher production costs to be reflected in our tariffs on imports. Today, as never before, when peoples are seeking trade, restoration and expansion, we must adjust our tariffs to the new order.

"We seek participation in the world's exchanges, because therein lies our way to widened influence and the triumphs of peace. We know full well we cannot sell where we do not buy, and we cannot sell successfully where we do not carry.

"Opportunity is calling not alone for the restoration, but for a new era in production, transportation and trade. We shall answer it best by meeting the demand of a surpassing home market, by promoting self-reliance in production and by bidding enterprise, genius and efficiency to carry our cargoes in our American bottoms to the marts of the world.

An America of Homes

"We would not have an America living within and for herself alone, but we would have her self-reliant, independent, and ever nobler, ever stronger and richer. Believing in our higher standards, reared through constitutional liberty and maintained opportunity, we invite the world to the same heights. But pride in things wrought is no reflex of a completed task. Common welfare is the goal of our national endeavor. Wealth is not inimical to welfare, it ought to be its friendliest agency.

"There never can be equality of rewards or possessions so long as the human plan contains varied talents and differing degrees of industry and thrift, but ours ought to be a country free from great blotches of distressed poverty. We ought to find a way to guard against the perils and penalties of unemployment. We want an America of homes, illuminated with hope and happiness, where mothers, freed from the necessity for long hours of toil beyond their own doors, may preside as befits the hearthstone of American citizenship. We want the cradle of American childhood rocked under conditions so wholesome and so hopeful that no blight may touch it in its development, and we want to provide that no selfish interest, no material necessity, no lack of opportunity shall prevent the gaining of that education so essential to best citizenship.

"There is no short cut to the making of these ideals into glad realities. The world has witnessed, again and again, the futility and the mischief of ill-considered remedies for social and economic disorders. But we are mindful today as never before of the friction of modern industrialism and we must learn its causes and reduce its evil consequences by sober and tested methods. Where genius has made for great possibilities, justice and happiness must be reflected in a greater common welfare.

Service, the Supreme Commitment

"Service is the supreme commitment of life. I would rejoice to acclaim the era of the golden rule and crown it with the autocracy of service. I pledge an administration wherein all the agencies of government are called to serve and ever promote an understanding of government purely as an expression of the popular will.

"One cannot stand in this presence and be unmindful of the tremendous responsibility. The world upheaval has added heavily to our tasks. But with the realization then comes the surge of high resolve, and there is reassurance in belief in the

for the finest, lightest, whitest, biscuits— use HENRY CLAY FLOUR

God-given destiny of our republic. If I felt that there is to be sole responsibility in the executive for the America of tomorrow, I should shrink from the burden. But here are a hundred millions, with common concern and shared responsibility, answerable to God and country. The republic summons them to their duty and I invite co-operation.

"I accept my part with single-mindedness of purpose and humanity of spirit and implore the favors and guidance of God in His heaven. With these I am unafraid and confidently face the future.

"I have taken the solemn oath of office on that passage of Holy Writ, wherein it is asked, 'What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly and to love mercy and walk humbly with thy God.' This I pledge to God and country."

Indigestion

Indigestion begins with the mouth. The food must be properly and thoroughly chewed; this crushes it into the smallest of particles and gives plenty of time for the saliva to be thoroughly mixed with it. This process cannot be properly carried out unless there are sufficient teeth in good condition to properly masticate it. When this is done indigestion is almost an impossibility. Taking care of the teeth and taking care to properly use them will avoid most of the stomach troubles to which the human race is subject.—Dr. H. M. Wright, Traders Bank Building.

IN JUSTICE TO OURSELVES

The Advocate below reproduces an article from Dr. A. H. Robbins, of the Grassy Lick neighborhoods, which recently appeared in the Lexington Herald, and in justice to ourselves we feel it our duty to state that The Advocate was NOT the "local paper" that refused to give publicity to same for the reason that it "might be construed as an unfriendly act by some candidates for local offices." The letter follows:

"Editor, Lexington Herald:

There has been a great deal said lately about the office of oil inspector and how useless the office is. Not knowing who the oil inspector for Montgomery county is, and how he got the appointment, the writer requested one of our local papers to give the public the name of the inspector and also to inform us as to how he got the office. The editor replied that to do so might be taken as an unfriendly act by some of the many candidates for county offices. Now, the public is entitled to know all about such things for it is by arousing a public sentiment against all useless offices, that we may hope to get the next legislature to repeal the laws creating them. Perhaps not fifty men in the county know who the oil inspector is. We fellows who ride in the Tin Lizzie pay tribute to this political mustard plaster, every time we get a little gas for her motor or a quart of oil to keep her "thingamajig" and her "do-funny" in working order.

Today I saw little children, clad in their rags and tatters, trudging along the road, in the mud and slush, with their little coal oil cans. They, too, had paid tribute to the great inspectors, about whom the best that can be said is what Uncle Josh said to Aunt Nancy—"just as useful as a whipsocket on an automobile."

They tell us that the inspectors are paid by the oil companies, but is anyone so stupid as not to know that this extra expense is passed on to the consumer?

Respectfully,
A. H. ROBBINS."

It is the intention of The Advocate to give publicity to all properly signed communications from reputable citizens which have as their objects the bettering of local conditions, and in the opinion of this paper the office

Last week we called your attention to some big suits and odd sizes for odd fellows and for big men. Many men have responded and found just exactly the goods that we described, and the price as quoted. We want to say to the men of regular build and who are in the limits of regular measurements, that we are offering today suits at $30, $35 and $27.50, that cannot be duplicated to sell for less than $35, $45 and $50. The goods are pure Fitzburg Worsteds, in varieties of styles which are the latest 1921 productions. We want you to see them, and our new Knox and Stetson Hats, which have just been put on sale.

of Oil Inspector is indeed a useless one, and costs the consumers of oil and gasoline in this state hundreds of thousands of dollars every year.

"GOOD OLD DAYS"

The period of good trading days is returning, if last Saturday's life is an indication. Several of our merchants volunteered to say that they had a fine business on that date and the indications since then bear evidence that the "good old days" have returned. A general merchandise proprietor sees his business improving with each passing day. Quite a number contemplate building, having gone so far that they have secured an architect who is engaged in making plans and specifications. Unless all indications fail it will be only a short while until the hammer will be heard from different parts in the city and dull times will have been pushed into the past.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

In this issue we announce Henry Watson as a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic party in primary, August 6th, 1921. Mr. Watson does not need an introduction to the voters. For more than twenty years he has lived in Mt. Sterling and no man has been truer to his party than has Mr. Watson. When before the people, if defeat came, he accepted the will of the people good-naturedly and made it his business to contend against political forces and for the success of his party, and using his language, "That is the kind of a Democrat I am." He authorizes us to say to the people that while he has, at times yielded to the alluring temptation of strong drink there never has been a time he has not voted on the side of temperance, and this he did because it was right. He believes it the duty of all women to vote, that if the men would follow their leadership the laws would be enforced and this country would be elevated to a higher moral standard. "You can say further, if I am nominated and elected the people will never have cause to say I was deaf to any duty that belongs to the office of County Attorney." We present Mr. Watson's name to the Democracy of of Montgomery County, feeling that they will give just consideration to his claims.

BOARD MEETS

The recently elected County Board of Education met for the first time in the County Superintendent's office at the Courthouse Saturday afternoon and organized. Dr. Morton Faulkner was elected chairman and presided over the meeting. Only routine business was transacted and the board adjourned to meet again in two weeks, at which time it is probable that a county superintendent will be elected.

would remain with Centre College next season. He has made this decision in the face of the fact that he had recently been made many flattering offers by colleges and universities to take a position as coach of football teams next year, the most flattering of which was from the Canton, Ohio, professional team. Great pressure was brought to bear in the effort to keep him with the Centre team. The Colonels now feel confident that they will defeat Harvard next year.

IN THE SPRING YOUR BLOOD NEEDS A TONIC

Winter Weakens Blood, Makes Faces Pale—Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan

THE BEST KNOWN BLOOD TONIC

Drowsy Spring-Fever Feeling That Comes from Sluggish Blood Will Soon Leave You

As all growing things on earth shoot into new life in Springtime, so do the billions of cells that make up each part of the body renew their vigor.

As you open the windows, breathe the Spring air, and let in the sunshine, the red corpuscles in your blood should carry more oxygen to the tiny cells.

The red corpuscles are tiny disc-shaped particles, swimming in enormous numbers in the blood. They carry oxygen to cells in all parts of the body, and they carry away worn-out waste matter. Sometimes, especially in the Spring, after the winter indoors and more or less of sickness, the red corpuscles themselves need rebuilding. Gude's Pepto-Mangan contains just the ingredients to give them greater power to absorb oxygen and to distribute it throughout the body.

That is why it is such a good Spring tonic. It helps so much to bring back color to cheeks made pale and wan by the necessary indoor winter life. It adds to the number of red corpuscles. With fine Spring days and Gude's Pepto-Mangan you gain in vigor and attain good health.

Don't go around drowsy this Spring. Take that good tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan. You can get it in tablet form or in liquid form at your druggist's. Both forms have the same medicinal value. Insist upon genuine Gude's Pepto-Mangan—Advertisement.

Kentucky Farm Notes From Here and There

H. B. Miltons, a Davies county farmer, recently conducted a pruning demonstration in his orchard in co-operation with County Agent J. R. Spencer.

Elvin Birch, of Mackville, Washington county, will conduct a corn variety test this coming spring in co-operation with County Agent R. M. Heath.

S. L. Conner, a Kenton county farmer, has arranged to carry on an orchard demonstration in co-operation with County Agent C. A. Wickland.

More than 50 Calloway county farmers recently attended two pruning demonstrations held by County Agent A. B. Gardner, of that county.

Farmers of Knox county will pay particular attention to poultry, fertilizer and lime, horticultural, elnh, pure-bred sires, improved methods and dairying problems during the coming year, according to a program of work for that section of the state which has been prepared by County Agent Earl Mayhew.

More than 115 cows have been enrolled in the Logan county pure-bred bull association, according to a report of E. M. Prewitt, of the State College of Agriculture. The association is planning to purchase three pure-bred Jersey bulls.

The Hopkins County Poultry Association will put 75 hatching eggs on each of 40 farms in the county not having any pure-bred poultry if their present plans toward furthering poultry standardization work in the state materialize. The eggs will be paid for by the farmers returning one pullet in the fall.

Paris Postoffice Is Robbed Again

The postoffice at Paris was entered by burglars some time on last Wednesday night, two vault doors were blown and an amount of cash and stamps, unofficially estimated at from $15,000 to $25,000, was taken. The discovery was not made until Thursday morning when J. G. Fuller, custodian, arrived at about 5:30 o'clock. No clue to the burglar has been found.

Entrance was made by prizing up the window of the money order department. Inside one of the vaults

Alton Park, Tenn.—"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cannot be excelled as a tonic and blood purifier. I have taken it as a tonic and to purify the blood and it was excellent. I also found it good for stomach trouble. And Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a fine system regulator. I found them especially good for constipation and bilious attacks and they also tone up the liver and drive impurities from the system in a very mild way."—J. S. HUGHES, 114 Rogers, Street.

vault door blown was not opened by the marauders. The small stamp desks at the windows were forced open and the small amount of stamps kept there were taken.

Persons living in the immediate neighborhood did not hear any noise, and knew nothing about the burglary until the next morning.

The exact amount of the loss will not be known until Postoffice Inspector V. G. Beck, of Lexington, and an inspector from Covington, who immediately went to Paris, finish their investigation.

This is the second time this postoffice has been robbed since it was moved into the new building, considered one of the finest in the state. The other burglary took place about seven years ago, shortly after Postmaster Walter A. Payne assumed the duties of his office. At that time very little was taken.

It doesn't take long to tell a man what you think of him, but it sometimes takes quite a while to recover.

LAW VIOLATORS

Judge Allen N. Cisco, who was here this week among other things, discussed the open violation of prohibition laws, moonshining. "Why," said the Judge, "while the wife is preparing the morning meal the husband is frequently engaged in making moonshine for the morning dram." It is not more frequent in the mountains than it is in the cities. It was Judge Gordon, of the Louisville Circuit Bench, who said the city rat holes, the garrets, and everywhere where hiding is good the custom of secret distilling prevails, and it is difficult to put a stop to it. Men beyond suspicion are sometimes caught. "In one of my courts," said Judge Cisco, "I had a grand jury who rendered service to the full measure and yet before three months had passed a moonshine distillery was located and raided on a juror's farm."

Springtime is peeping around the corner quite frequently at present.

The "movers" pass to and fro, but seldom indeed does a resident of our thriving village "pack up" for greener pastures. Once a citizen means a resident that requires quite a tidal wave to remove.

Squire John Trimble, who has been seriously sick for some weeks, is a little improved.

Jeff Cooper has returned from a business trip to Beattyville.

Miss Nettie Chase, who has been suffering from an attack of pleurisy, is very much improved.

The Consolidated school continues to flourish, four new scholars last week. This writer understands patrons and real friends to our school are always welcome and the faculty expects you, but a knock, Oh my.

Dan Cupid seems to take a real delight in visiting the high school department and so far no lock or key has been devised to turn him away. A well grounded rumor says another of our high school girls becomes a bride during the week.

In domestic science we have the "Monday Girls," the "Wednesday Girls," and the "Friday Girls." If these cooking lessons are an added attraction to Mr. Cupid. Who says dispense with them? Not all the teachers, sure, for "we, too," or is it "we, two" also love chocolate drops?

Daisy hopes to return to school this week after an absence through sickness of some weeks.

Stella is quite a politician and we wonder if Mr. Harding will remember her!

Howard Osborne has completed his new mercantile storehouse and is now in the city buying new goods to stock same. Report says he intends to lay in a $6,000 stock of general merchandise. He has an electric light system.

L. Roeder sold to Clark county parties a team of horses for $225.

Everett Trimble has completed quite a nice building the new garage. Jeff Cockrell has rented the Will Joe Fox farm on Brush Creek.

Shirley Motley has rented of Ray Moss, guardian, a 36-acre farm near here. He and his bride move there this week from the city.

TO MAKE BRIGHT TOBACCO

The demand is almost entirely for bright tobacco. If we expect to make a paying crop, we must go to work to make bright tobacco. In order to do this we must plant it early and grow it quick.

Every farmer in the Burley Belt should use fertilizer on his plant beds and enough on his ground to give his tobacco a start and make a quick growth. One bag (125 lbs.) of our Plant Food sowed once over a 9-foot wide and 200-foot long, and raked in with a small hand rake, will give you strong healthy plants two weeks sooner. Two hundred pounds of our Bright Leaf Tobacco Grower, drilled in or by the side of the row, will give your tobacco a start and make an early, bright, fine crop. It will pay on any land. Four hundred pounds, drilled in or sowed all over the ground, will make a fine tobacco crop and a big wheat crop, and insure you a good stand of grass.

We sell only the V.-C. Fertilizer, made by the Virginia-Carolina Company (the largest manufacturers of fertilizers in the world.) This fertilizer has been tried all over this and every other section and has given satisfaction. Our Plant Food has proven to be the best for plant beds, and our Gem Tobacco Fertilizer has ammonia enough to start the plant and give it a quick growth, and sufficient acid phosphate to ripen it with high color.
